nessen Water Co. Attempts to Lay Short Line on Liberty Avenue and Men are Placed Under Arrest.

he trouble between the Borough of laban and the Monessen Water Co. broken out again. Last night the er company attempted to lay a short e of line on Liberty avenue and this ning the entire force was placed er arrest.

he water company gave notice that case would be appealed to court and men were released. It will be rebered that this same matter was the e of a controversey last August, reng in a suit in court in which judgt was rendered in favor of the water pany.

he water company had shut off the r in order to connect up the new line consequently the citizens of laban were without water for a time. water company applied to the burfor a permit to do the digging on rty avenne and the Burgess had is a permit authorizing the work and ted the water company to pay the ee fee to the treasurer. These ins tions were complied with and the r company claim that the arrests were unwarranted and illegal. The er will probably be aired in court.

THINNING RANKS OF BLUE.

d Army Posts Disband in Homead Because of Death's Ravages ath has so thinned the ranks of old ers in Homestead that there is now ost of the G. A. R in the borough to net memorial services, a fact that brought to the attention of Home people by a meeting of a small ber of the Civil war survivors yester ring the year the two posts of the gh, Carnegie post No. 625 and Gen. les Griffin post No. 510, disbanded. of the members from both post resterday, however, and arranged to net memorial services.

Uniontown May Be Reinstated.

s meeting of the representatives of Pennsylvania, Ohio & Maryland e today at the Hotel Henry, in burg, is sure to be full of interesting ions. Representatives of both the Uniontown management and the sburg Fairmont combination will be nds with $500 in their clothes ready e the place in the P. O M. circuit tly vacated by Uniontown. If the Virginia combination secures the another grand change will have to ade in the name of the league. The ntown promoters assert that Groner and Bowman acted beyond their rity in withdrawing from the league hey are now going to make a fight reinstated.

No More Hitches.

nday afternoon Judges Taylor and rain handed down a decree orderith the Williamsport Bridge Co. and unty commissioners to make the at Monongahela free, following y the action of the Allegheny y court on Saturday. There will further delay in the proceeding.

DENTISTS IN CONVENTION.

Odotological Society of Western Pennsylvania in Session at Pittsburg. Monessen Without Dentists as a Result.

Several hundred dentists from Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia are assembled in Pittsburg today attending the twenty-first annual meeting of the Odontological society of Western Pennsylvania, which is being held at the Annex Hotel. The Dental Manufacturers' exhibit is also an interesting feature.

Much business of importance to the members of the society was disposed of at the opening session yesterday morning, followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year. Dr. W. H. Haines, of Pittsburg, was elected president and Dr. H. H. Harrison, of Wheeling, vice president.

Yesterday morning's session was addressed by the retiring president, Dr. W. S. Cook, of Beaver Falls, who advocated the requirement of preliminary educational attainments as a condition of matriculation at dental schools.

Owing to these circumstances Monessen is almost without dentists, most of the profession from here being in attendance. Those who went today are Dr and Mrs. G. T. Barben, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Stewart, Dr and Mrs. F. P. Cook and Dr. W. M. Evans.

The convention will close tomorrow.

WEBSTER NOTES.

Ambrose Cox was in Charleroi yesterday on a business errand.

Francis Pierce, who has been ill since Sunday, is much improved.

Mrs. Mary McAllister, of Donora, was visiting friends in town today.

Miss Margaret Adams of Monongahela, was calling on friends in town today.

D. Circio, the barber of the Donora, was in town Monday on business.

Walter Diffenbaugh, of Finleyville, spent a part of yesterday in town on business.

Jos McGee, of Clairton, was in town today representing a life insurance company.

Richard Taylor, who was injured by falling from the roof of his home at the coke office, is able to be out again.

Jacob Lange, representing the Logan Gregg Hardware Co., was circulating among our merchants yesterday.

The farmers are busily complaining about the present conditions of the roads, saying that it is almost impossible for them to get into town.

The paper hanging has been completed in the new room of R. L. McMahan, the grocer, creating quite a difference in its appearance.

The kind of days we are now having certainly creates a motive for playing "hookey." Many of the youngsters take advantage of the pretty days and hide when the bell rings.

Everybody's Tickled.

Everyone is wearing a broad smile around the Page plant these days, the cause being the result of last month's operations, they having broken all previous records in all departments.

STRIKE EFFECTS P. R. R.

Officials Cut $750,000 of Wages per Month.---40,000 Workers Suffer.

Employes of the Pennsylvania railroad have already been made to feel severely the effect of the coal miners' strike, about 40,000 men connected with the maintenance of way and the mechanical departments, it is estimated, having been put on half time or less.

The company felt compelled to reduce expenses in view of the outlook for a decrease in traffic, and the instructions issued Saturday, reduce the hours of the shop employes to 25 hours a week, and of the maintenance employes to half time. No intimation has been given out as to how long this condition would continue.

"OLD R. AND R."

By M. J. PHILLIPS

Copyright, 1905, by K. A. Whitehead

The Continental Express company is a great institution. It does business in every state between the seaboards, and its employees, who are messengers on trains, local agents, route agents, office men and drivers, number thousands. The Continental continues to be great and to pay dividends because it takes a particular interest in the goings in and comings out of each of its employees. It demands services of them and loads responsibilities upon them at which bank presidents would shudder. The company's motto, if a thing so thoroughly useless were ever an appendage of an enterprise so utilitarian, would be, "The Continental expects every man to do his duty."

The corporation comes nearer to representing abstract justice than the supreme court. Good men are advanced in precisely the degree they deserve advancement. Bad men are punished.

"THROW DOWN THAT SACK!" HE COMMANDED HOARSELY.

The Continental stands ready to spend $5,000 in convicting the man who steals a hundred. Employees who have given the best years of their life to its service are pensioned. The only touch of human nature about it is the present of a five dollar bill which, with a formal and frosty little letter, is sent each Christmas to every employee who has worked for the Continental a year or more.

The spirit and essence of the Continental is its book of "Rules and Regulations." The tome is a ponderous mass of bound circulars a foot thick. Every fortnight or so another printed yellow folder is issued, bringing the express world up to date, and this is duly read by agent or messenger and fastened into the covers.

Somewhere in the musty depths of the "Rules and Regulations" are instructions covering every possible contingency, from handling Egyptian mummies to the feeding of live stock in transit. No matter how absurd an employee's procedure in an emergency, when viewed in the light of common sense he has only to quote "Rules and Regulations" correctly. He is sure of forgiveness. And the man who is versed in "Old R. and R.," as the book is called, is held by his colleagues in much the same half envious regard with which ministers look upon a brother who knows his Bible exceedingly well.

Booth, money clerk at Morgantown, had a special name for the canvas covered volume—"The Book of Revelation." The agent, Hornbeck, who had grown gray in the Continental's service, chided him one day for his flippancy.

"I tell you, Bill," he said seriously, "'Old R. and R.' can't take you far astray any turn of the road. You could use it as a guide and be a pretty good Christian. Doesn't it tell you to be strictly honest, to be temperate and keep good hours, to affiliate yourself with some church and attend divine services on Sunday, to dress neatly and as well as your income will permit, to treat everybody with politeness, 'for we must depend on rich and poor, white and black, for our business?'"

"That's true, all right," replied Bill, impressed. "I never looked at it that way before."

"And," chimed in Bobby Taylor, the driver, "'Old R. and R.' makes you insure your life before you can work for the company. That isn't all of it either. Away back in Series D, No. 439, dated June 1, 1893, I found a paragraph advising employees to marry."

"Funny you'd stumble on to that, hey, Bobby?" queried Booth, with a grin and a wink at Hornbeck, whereupon Bobby, blushing like a schoolgirl, hastened back to his wagon.

Bobby was the best driver the Morgantown office had. He did oceans of work every day, collecting parcels and making deliveries. Besides, there were four round trips between the office and Morgan Junction, a mile away. The railroads got no nearer town than the Junction. He did all this and hankered for more, anxious for promotion, for promotion meant more money, and more money spelled matrimony. Bobby and Marion Hackett had it all arranged. When his salary touched $60 a month—a driver gets $45—or when he had $300 saved, then they would adventure down life's stream together.

"For, you see, Marion, $45 a month isn't much, although it would buy coal and something to eat," Bobby would explain. "But, darling, I don't want you regretting having married me right at the start. I'm going to have enough so we'll be comfortable."

And Marion, with fond belief in Bobby's financial acumen, would lay her curly head on his shoulder and agree, satisfied this was right, for hadn't Bobby said so?

Bobby was thinking up ways and means one winter's night as he turned his horse's head homeward with the load of freight from the eastbound train. The first quarter mile of the journey, between solid rows of lumber piles and lighted by a single arc light, was lonesome. Bobby often thought that if a holdup for the valuable money packages he carried were ever attempted it would be on this stretch of narrow, deserted street.

The possibility of such an occurrence was always present. Tonight it became a reality. A man, a dark cloth tied over his face, suddenly sprang out of the shadow and seized plodding old Dick by the bit. Something glittered in the hand which he pointed at Bobby. "Throw down that sack!" he commanded hoarsely. "The red way bill stuff," as the valuable packages are called, was in a sack swung over the driver's shoulder.

Bobby's reply was to reach for the Colt's thirty-eight, which drivers of the Continental carry. The stranger fired, and Bobby felt the crease as of a hot iron right above his right ear. The bullet had barely missed him. The holdup man went down next instead, a bullet from the Colt's in his shoulder. He lay helpless on the soggy snow until the police came and took him away.

A route agent came to Morgantown next morning, talked with Hornbeck and went away. Route agents are a power, and Bobby was impressed and flattered when this particular member of the guild shook hands and jokingly called him "Deadwood Dick."

A week later the sequel of the attempted holdup was written. A red way bill package, containing five $100 bills, came for Bobby from Continental headquarters. A commendatory letter which accompanied it quoted a certain ancient circular far back in "Old R. and R.," which provides that the Continental employee who captures uninjured the criminal that attempts robbery shall receive $100; the sum shall be $500 if the thief is wounded and captured.

Hornbeck says that letter, which Mr. and Mrs. Taylor prize most highly, is the first ever sent out from headquarters consciously or unconsciously humorous. "Old R. and R." makes no allowance for humor, but the epistle advised Bobby, among other things, to get married. And Bobby was planning the honeymoon while he read it.

English Towns.

That there are many instances in England of two or more towns enjoying the same name is a fact that nobody can well help knowing, but probably few people are aware of the very wide extent to which this duplication of names prevails. Newton seems to hold the same rank among places as Smith among individuals, no fewer than seventy-two towns and villages in England alone bearing this name. By including the Newtowns, obviously the same name with a slight difference in spelling, the total is raised to little short of ninety. As every town must have been a "new town" at some time or other it shows a great lack of inventive genius among our ancestors who had the naming of the towns. There are sixty-eight places named Sutton. Our ancestors seem to have found the four points of the compass of great service in the nomenclature of their towns, for besides the Suttons there are fifty-one Westons, forty-nine Nortons and seventeen Eastons. To these last should be added thirty-eight Astons, another form of the name very common in the west of England.—London Chronicle.

A Domestic Treasure.

Sir Squire Bancroft in proposing the health of the bishop of London told a story in his inimitable way. A charming young damsel came to London to visit an aunt, who probably came originally from Scotland, for when the young lady was leaving in a cab for an evening party she said: "Now, mind; don't you pay him more than 1 shilling. It's his legal fare." Arrived at her destination, the young lady sprang out, handed cabby a shilling and bounded up the steps of the house.

"'Ere, I say, miss!" called cabby. "Kin I ask you a question?"

"Yes, you may."

"Well, are you married?"

"No," she cried, indignant. "I'm not!"

"Well—well, somebody's a-goin' to git a treasure, for I never seen a gal as could make a bob go further or do more 'ard work nor you, miss!"—London Mail.

The Right Doctor.

In Haverhill, Mass., according to the Boston Herald, there used to live two doctors of the same surname. Dr. Benjamin E. Sawyer was a physician with a large practice. Dr. Nathan Sawyer was a veterinarian. A man named Jones, after a week or more of imbibing, was very sick, and his wife, becoming alarmed, sent the hired man for Dr. Sawyer. The hired man brought the wrong Sawyer—the veterinary. Dr. Nathan explained to the wife that he was skilled only in the diseases of horses, cattle and other animals. "I guess you can prescribe all right in this case," replied Mrs. Jones. "Jones is a jackass."

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
To find relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "For twenty years I was doctoring for kidney and liver trouble, but without benefit. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

One would think the Laxative idea in a cough syrup should have been advanced long before it was. It seems the only rational remedy for Coughs and Colds would be to move the bowels and clean the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the Original Laxative Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. Tastes good and is harmless.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

The tar that is contained in Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is harmless. It is not coal tar, but is obtained from the pine trees of our own native forests. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the best remedy for colds because it acts on the bowels—thus expelling all colds from the system. Bee's is the original Laxative Honey and Tar, and is best for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, lung and bronchial effections. Sold by C. A. Light.

Don't frown—look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion or sour stomach, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hon. Jake Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years." Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on stomach, belching, etc.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

A liquid cold cure for children that is pleasant, harmless and effective is Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar. Superior to all other cough syrups or cold remedies because it acts on the bowels. An ideal remedy for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough and all curable lung and bronchial effections in child or adult. Pleasant to take. Sold by C. A. Light.

If you are troubled with Piles and can't find a cure, try Witch Hazel Salve, but be sure you get that made by E. C. De Witt & Co., Chicago. It is the Original. If you have used Witch Hazel Salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

The gums and resins obtained from pine trees have long been recognized as highly beneficial in the treatment of backache, kidney and bladder troubles. Pine-ules is the name of a new medicine, the principle ingredients of which come from the pine forests of our own native land. Sold by C. A. Light.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. Makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, and draws out the inflammation. It should be kept on hand for immediate use.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

It is not difficult to relieve blind bleeding, itching or protruding piles with ManZan, the great pile remedy. It is put up in collapsable tubes with nozzle, and may be introduced and applied at the seat of the trouble. Stops pain instantly. Sold by C. A. Light.

Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol Digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

For bloating, belching, indigestion, etc., eat a Ring's Dyspepsia Tablet after meals. Sold by C. A. Light.

The best safeguard against headache, constipation and liver troubles is De Witt's Little Early Risers. Keep a vial of these famous little pills in the house and take a dose at bedtime when you feel that the stomach and bowels need cleansing. They don't gripe.—Sold by R. W. Beck.

Salve! Salve! Spread the Salve, but let it be Pine Salve, natures remedy for cuts, burns, sores, etc. Sold by C. A. Light.

Diphtheria, sore throat croup. Instant relief, permanent cure. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug tore.

For headache, constipation, etc., Dade's Little Liver Pills are the best. They cleanse and tonic the liver. Sold by C. A. Light.

Making Improvements.

Chas. Snyder, the Webster poultry fancier, is already busily engaged making preparations for a very active season. Mr. Snyder reports a remarkably large sale of eggs many purchases coming from quite a distance and it is now hustling him to supply the steadily increasing demand.

The people of this vicinity interested in poultry seem to have realized and come to the point of appreciating the superior stock kept by Mr. Snyder as his poultry is of pure blood only making it a matter of profit well worth considering to those who contemplate poultry raising this coming season and also to those who consider only the number of eggs laid each year it can be safely said that no known breed lays a larger number of eggs than the ones kept by Mr. Snyder and that when being sold for breeding purposes they bring a better price.

Mr. Snyder is making many improvements this year adding a new house for the young chicks which are steadily coming, and extends to all interested in poultry a cordial invitation to inspect his yards.

"The Fatal Wedding."

When Theodore Kremer wrote "The Fatal Wedding", it is hardly possible that he realized that he had completed a melodrama which was destined to become one of the greatest successes of years, and which would be translated in to other languages and produced on three continents. The reason that "The Fatal Wedding" has done all of this is because it is a play that is a true picture of human nature skillfully and delightfully told. At the Monessen opera house tonight.

Mutilated By Cats.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walker, an octogenarian couple, were found dead in bed fully dressed in an isolated house at Clark's Summit. The woman's face breast and back had been eaten away by four cats which were imprisoned in the house with them. It is supposed they have been dead for a week and death was due to starvation and cold.

The husband was at one time well-to-do, but lost all his money on patents. Among his inventions was a patent car coupler which is the best ever conceived. He never could market it however, on account of litigation and poverty.

Carpenters and Painters Strike.

All the union carpenters and painters of Connellsville are out on a strike, demanding a minimum rate of $3 per day which the contractors refuse to pay, saying that in view of the high prices of lumber and general building material, they cannot afford to grant the increase and that they will remain idle for some months before doing so.

Inaugurated New Mayors.

The inaugurations of Geo. W. Guthrie as Mayor of Pittsburg and of Charles F Kirchler, of Allegheny, and the organization of new councils in both cities drew the interest of immense crowds who thronged the Municipal Buildings during the cermonies Monday.

Fire in Fruit Store.

Fire was discovered about 11 o'clock last night in the Italian fruit store on Donner avenue, between First and Second streets. The firemen responded to an alarm and succeeded in saving the building, although the contents were all destroyed.

Singing For Nothing a Year.

Writing of the trials and tribulations of American singers who go to Europe to gain recognition, Mildred Aldrich in the Theater Magazine says:

"To most singers who have sought recognition abroad there is but one drawback to the European career. It is not love of home that brings them back to the United States. It is money. It looks fine to put 'de l'Opera' or 'de l'Opera Comique' on one's visiting card, as is the habit in Europe, but there is another side to it. Many a debutante has sung at the Opera Comique for nothing, some have paid, and some have had the magnificent salary of 200 francs a month (just shy of $40). One of the most prominent debutantes at the opera saw 5,000 francs paid over for her debut, and one woman who was there two years as a regular member of the troupe earned 6,000 francs a year ($25 a week), and she was considered favored. Cities like Bordeaux often get debutantes at 300 francs ($60) a month, and in theaters of that sort singers provide their own costumes, so it is small wonder that, having got one's education, one wants to earn money in the United States."
